One day there was a young boy He lived in a dorm and he is why everything always goes smoothly. one afternoon He playing the game and he managed to win and finish the game.

"very easy" wait what is this?"

He sees hidden messages accompanied by music.

"Hi I hope you enjoy my game but... before you finish this game you have to listen to my story for a bit."

said the game developer and the game maker is a girl.

"so I want to tell you about my mother, yes it sounds strange but I want you to know about my mother's love, she is very kind and taught me everything, examples of cooking, and also taught me to clean the house and helped me study but...my mother died of cancer and honestly I didn't know that my mother had cancer until the doctor told me I was so sad and devastated because why DIDN'T MOTHER TELL ME! "I lost my light and support and path after her left I don't know if I should blame myself? because of my ignorance and yes the doctor said that mother had been fighting cancer for 14 years who I thought was fine and was always with me covering for 14 years made my heart was restless and broken after hearing that and i couldn't accept the loss but I remember mom words when I was a little girl."

She remembered her mother's words.

"My beautiful little girl you are a sweet girl and you are my most precious and irreplaceable little treasure in this world I love you and you are a strong girl my love will always be there for you forever."

she took a deep breath."I accept it even though it's hard but I accept it because mother may go and leave me alone but her love will always be with me forever because mother's love is love written in the world."

game at the end with a photo of the girl with her mother before leaving.

He was silent for a long time realizing something that was very painful for himself because he was thinking how he was in that position, how it would be and he couldn't say a word after he read the story.

"I didn't think it would be like that I just I just"

he was speechless but after a few minutes His cell phone rang and there was a phone call from his mother and handsome thought for a long time, he immediately picked up his mother's phone.

"hello mom"

he answered a little wearily.

"What's wrong my dear?"

his mother answered worriedly

"What's wrong my dear? Did someone hurt you or did something happen? Please tell me. I will listen."

He felt a wave of sadness and guilt towards his mother because of his actions towards her and he was no longer able to hold back his tears any longer.

"Mom, I apologize for my very bad and rude behavior towards you mom."

he said that while sobbing uncontrollably his mother was shocked.

"Oh my dear child, I always forgive you, even though you are naughty and sometimes make mother upset, but you are the child I love so much because you are the most beautiful treasure that GOD has ever given me."

"Since you were in my womb, I have always looked after you and cared for you and even given you the best food so that you would become a smart, healthy and strong child."

"For nine months I took care of you carefully and waited for you to be born and when you were born I was tired and weak but it all paid off when you cried for the first time and I held you for the first time happy tears streaming down my face I could see my little baby boy Being born is the greatest joy in my heart"

"why I teach you everything as your foundation so that after I'm gone you'll know all"

After he heard his mother's answer, he felt very relieved.

"Thank you, mother, for loving and looking after me from your womb and until now, mother. I love you, mother"

"I love you my dear child Take good care of yourself in the dorm, dear and don't forget to eat, pray and read the Bible, study a lot so you can be successful, mother will always be here to support you, dear"

"I love you so much, mom"

"I love you too, dear"

call ended but he got a new perspective that in every problem and challenge, mother always supports and encourages us in every situation.

THAT'S ALL AND THANK YOU

AND ALSO MY MOTHER
THANK YOU
