

Prayer

In quiet time, we start to pray

And talk to God each single day

We close our eyes and bow our head

And say the words we wish were said

We bring to Him our joy and pain

Our hopes, our loss, our loss again

We trust that He is always near

And listens closely when we're here

We do not need big words or sound

For God is always all around

In every place, both night and day

He hears us when we stop to pray
