

Dust

Door to door, across the floor,

No one noticed anymore.

Years and years, blown past tears,

Blown through wars, no one cares.

Im not ignored,

But quite well toured.

Im everywhere,

Even in air.

I cannot harm,

And stay well calm.

Unless upset,

I will have crept.

I'll be well left alone,

While your past time has flown.

So well say our last goodbye,

Unto the Lord you'll fly high.
