

The Path to Eternity

A long time ago, in the deep forest, there lived a man named John and his daughter, Lizzie. One day, John asked Lizzie if she wanted to go on a hike with him to a nearby post office to see if he had any mail. Lizzie declined as she was still tired from the hockey match the night before. Later on, she decided to follow her father after he had left. She caught up to him, but he did not see her and he continued to walk on. So, you see, Lizzie did not know any path as she had just got there. She followed her father slowly. On the way down to cross the river, Lizzie caught sight of a bush with beautiful flowers. She stopped to pick up one of these beautiful flowers. When she came onto the path again, her father was gone. Lizzie called out for her father repeatedly, but he did not answer. Lizzie, terrified at first, knelt on her knees and prayed, "Father God, please help me to find my Dad. I know you will help me". Then, she continued on her way.

Meanwhile, John who was still hiking, reached for his phone and called Lizzie. He called three times with no answer so he thought she was asleep. He decided to continue to the post office. After Lizzie had crossed the river and climbed the hill, she realised that it was getting dark. At around 7.30 in the evening, Lizzie finally felt the wave of tiredness that she had been dreading. Luckily, after a few more steps, she saw a glimpse of light. It was a cabin in the distance which hunters would oftentimes use to rest. When she walked in, it was very dusty and the floor creaked so much that she thought she would fall through it. She opened the cupboards in the cabin and found four cans of sardines and four bottles of water.

Lizzie was so hungry that she took out one can and hurriedly ate the sardines in one sitting. She also drank one bottle of water. After she ate, she went exploring in the cabin. When she opened the door to one of the rooms, she found that there was a bed in it. She also found a lantern beside the bed. Knowing that this was a blessing from God, she knelt and prayed then went to bed.

John had returned to their house and when he walked through the door of his home, he expected Lizzie to be there and run to him with a big welcoming hug. He soon realised there was no one in the house. He looked in the car, in the backyard and even in the trash thinking that she might have pranked him, but no Lizzie could be seen.

The next morning when Lizzie woke up from a peaceful slumber when she saw a cat walking around her bed. She stood up, stroked the cat then knelt and prayed. She then walked out and continued to search for her father. Unlike his daughter, John was still tired after a restless night of sleep. He called the police immediately upon waking to ask them to look for his daughter. One helicopter, four ranger services in that area and two police departments were now looking for her. Now all they had to do was pray. Walking through the soft green grass, with beautiful surroundings of nature, Lizzie felt like she was in a dream. She prayed a silent prayer to God that someone would find her today so that she could go back to her home to be with her father. After she said "Amen", she heard the whirring of a helicopter coming closer. In the helicopter they could see her easily as she was in a clearing amidst all the tall pine trees. Lizzie was safely taken back to her home where she saw her father again. Lizzie knows that God was with her always and never left her.

The path to eternity is not easy. It is filled with many hardships that Satan puts in the way to block us from inheriting the true promise at the end. When faced with these troubles or hardships we should always trust in God to deliver us and help us along the way even when things get hard. Even though you may be going through something exceedingly difficult right now, remember that he is always there with you. It may feel like he has totally left you, but he is always watching over you and loves you if you follow him and keep his commandments. Lizzie can be an example in our lives to remind us to trust God always even when things seem hopeless. The path to eternity is difficult; it will never be easy.

By Shiloh Konrote