

The Heart Doctor

Puppets – Dilaite Raleqe, Elisabeth Sigatalei, Kailani Bula

Characters: Suzie and Mickey

(Suzie enters left. She runs past Mickey and nearly knocks him over.)

Mickey: Whoa, Suzie, where are you going in such a rush?

Suzie: (stops, turns and faces Mickey) I've got to get to the library before it closes.

Mickey: What is so important at the library?

Suzie: Books! I've got to get more books to read.

Mickey: Oh, more 'Little House on the Prairie' stories?

Suzie: (stares at him in disbelief) Don't be ridiculous! Those books are for fun. I'm reading about something very serious.

Mickey: And what is that?

Suzie: I've come up with a wonderful solution to a big problem.

Mickey: Well, what is it?

Suzie: (leans close to him) Promise you won't tell anyone.

Mickey: Well....

Suzie: Mickey, you've gotta promise or I won't even tell you.

Mickey: Okay, okay, I promise.

Suzie: Well, in Sunday School last week, our memory verse was Proverbs

15:13, "A happy heart makes the face cheerful." That means happy hearts make happy faces!

Mickey: So?

Suzie: So, if we can change people's hearts, we can change the way they look. (Proudly) Won't that be wonderful?

Mickey: But how are you going to accomplish this great task?

Suzie: (Excitedly) I'm going to become a heart doctor! (More excitedly)

And learn to do heart surgeries-like putting in a pacemaker.

Mickey: Oh, I know what that is. My computer has a Pagemaker program.

Suzie: (Sighs) No! A pacemaker. It helps the heart beat at just the right speed. (beats heart five times slowly) Not too fast and not too slow.

Mickey: But you're just a kid! It takes years and years of study and practice to be able to do something so complicated.

Suzie: But I want to start helping change sad hearts to happy hearts right away. (Sits down sadly and holds face in hands.)

Mickey: There is a way- a better way.

Suzie: (Jumps up) tell me!

Mickey: If you really want to change a person's life, you need to work on the spiritual heart. And that's what God means when he says a happy heart makes the face cheerful. The spiritual heart is the real you-the part of you that thinks and decides things. It's the part of you that feels sad or happy.

Suzie: (looks puzzled) How can I work on the spiritual heart?

Mickey: The first step is to tell a person about Jesus and how He can receive Him as his Savior.

Suzie: I can do that!

Mickey: Yes, you can. And once a person asks Jesus to be his Savior, it's like Jesus gives him a new heart-one that's good and wants to do right.

Suzie: Jesus changes the sad heart to a happy heart!

Mickey: Right! When we have Jesus in our lives and live the way He wants us to, He gives us peace and joy and that's what makes a happy heart.

Suzie: That means Jesus must be the real heart doctor. Whew! What a relief! Now I don't have to do all that studying and work.

Mickey: Still going to the library?

Suzie: No, not today. Let's go and tell someone about Jesus!

Both: Yes! (Slap hi-5.....Suzie turns and leaves left.)

Mickey: (chases after her) Hey, wait for me!
