Moral of The Story: The spiritual journey of life requires personal faith, perseverance, and reliance and trust on God to defeat obstacles like sin or doubt.

What I think about The book: I love how The Little Pilgrim's Progress states that children can go and find God too!

And how they are capable even as kids. I love how it shows that it's normal for kids to make mistakes but still have to get disciplined.

Because the book states that we need personal faith, we need to trust God from the heart, and how true strength doesn't come from self-reliance but to be bold to cry for help to the King.
