Script

1: [enters, singing with 1st picture]

Hot cross buns! Hot cross buns! One-a-penny, two-a-penny, hot cross buns!

Give 'em to your daughters, give 'em to your sons; One-a-penny, two-a penny, hot cross buns!

[2: enters during the last line]

2: [puzzled] What are you doing?

1: I'm singing; what do you think I'm doing? [sings] Hot cross buns! Hot cross ...

2: [interrupting] Stop it, stop it! That makes me really cross!

1: I didn't think my singing was that bad!

2: [indignantly] No, no! Not your singing! [Aside to audience] Though I must admit it was pretty bad!

1: [puzzled] Well, if it isn't my singing that makes you really cross, what is it that makes you really cross?

2: [angrily] Hot cross buns! That's what makes me really cross!

1: [puzzled] Hot cross buns make you really cross? They don't make me really cross ... I'm too busy eating them!

2: [sarcastically] Now why doesn't that surprise me? [Slight pause]

1: Well ... are you going to tell me then?

2: Tell you what?

1: [annoyed] Why hot cross buns make you cross!

2: There's no need to get cross!

1: [irritated] Well, what do you expect? I'm still waiting to hear why hot cross buns make you cross ... and so are the audience out there ... aren't you?

2: OK ... I'll tell you why hot cross buns make me cross!

1: [sarcastically] At last!

2: It's all because of the cross.

1: [puzzled] The cross? What cross?

2: Exactly! The cross they put on the bun isn't a proper cross at all most of the time! [2nd picture]

1: [puzzled] What do you mean?

2: Well, the cross on the bun is supposed to remind us of the cross Jesus died on ... but the piece where the arms go is about half-way down the cross!

1: Oh, I see now! That would mean your arms would have to be sticking out of your side and not on your shoulders to be crucified on a cross that shape!

2: That's right! And since it's called a hot cross bun because of the cross shape on it, you think they'd get it right, and put the bit for the arms higher up, wouldn't you?

1: I suppose ... [makes slurping sound] ... but it still tastes the same, doesn't it!

2: I just wonder how many people stuffing a hot cross bun into their mouths like you stop to think about why Jesus died on the cross.

1: Was there a reason, then?

2: Oh yes! Jesus was taking the punishment for all the wrong things we do, so that we can be forgiven. That's how much God loves us.

1: Wow! [Slight pause] You know, I've just had a thought!

2: [suspiciously] Is this another of your jokes?

1: Not this time, no! I was just thinking ... if you look at one of those buns that doesn't have the right shape for the cross [3rd picture] ... and you turn it sideways ... it looks like a kiss!

2: [indignantly] I thought you said this wasn't a joke!

1: It's not, honestly! I just thought that a kiss on the bun was a good way of reminding us of God's love for us in sending Jesus to die on the cross ... that's all. [4th picture with music]

2: That's excellent! So, whatever kind of cross you get on your bun, you're being reminded of how much God loves you!

1: So, you don't need to get cross any more!

2: You're right there!

[Slight pause]

1: You know ... all this talk about hot cross buns has made me feel very hungry! Let's go and scoff some! [Exit]

2: See you later, everybody! [Exit]
