Please list the details of the source(s) of your ideas
 (e.g. book title/author, photographer's name, web address - not Google!)

I just made it up - my imagination.

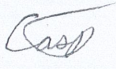

List the materials and tools used in completing your project:

I used Microsoft Word to complete my comic strip.
 I used one image from google and pasted it in. All else was done through Word.

Describe the step-by-step procedures used to complete your project:

First I thought of an appropriate Christian trait.
 Kindness sounded great. Next, I started adding shapes.
 The background, a tree, people etc. I based the plot off the good Samaritan. Money wasn't the best gift but it still fits.

Artwork Description:
I chose the background first. Light blue was appropriate. Next I did the sun. This was easy since there was an image for the sun already. I did the tree next. This one was a little bit more complicated, so I used three clouds and a rectangle for the trunk. I added some detail to the tree by bending lines and using a circle with edited points inside an oval. Next were the people. There was a face with an adjustable smile that I used with an edited circle for hair. The neck was made with a rectangle and an outline. The arms and legs were made by using lines, and the hand and feet were circles (stretched for feet and colored for shoes). Lastly, the shirt and shorts were edited rectangles with a color of my choice. Lastly the cane was three colored lines. The chair was pasted from google.
