

A Christian's Walk

I walk by faith, though I cannot see,Trusting the One who first loved me.Through joy and trials, day by day,Jesus Christ lights my way.

With a heart of grace and hands that care,I share His love everywhere.Not by my strength, but by His light,He leads me through the darkest night.

So let my life reflect His name,Forever yesterday, today, the same.Until the day I see His face,I'll live by faith, held by His grace.

Written by:Allen Baro